Major Changes Coming to AANR Website's Membership Area

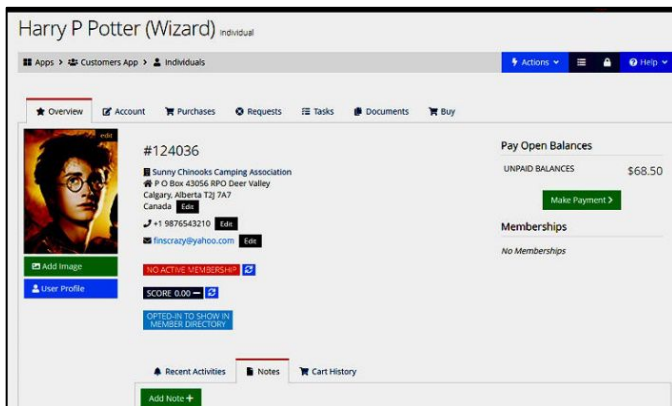

AANR's Technology sub-committee has been planning this past year to implement a new software program to administer membership renewals for individuals who originally joined online, and to make it easier for the designated AANR Certifying Officer in each affiliated club to submit their member renewals each month.

As of January 1, this new software, called Impexium, goes "live," so it is important people know how to navigate through the new screens.

Members will be able to instantly check the status of their memberships, renew online, and print their own membership cards. Club Certifying Officers will be able to do the same for whole blocs of their members at one time.

Also, the regional presidents will be able to better communicate with their constituents by having the ability to send targeted text, email, or newsletters directly to the members in their areas or to a specific targeted group of members in a geographic subset of their regions.

When an individual logs in using their email for name plus a password, they will see their own membership screen, like this:

Available options will appear on the menu ribbon at the top of the screen. [Note: not all tabs would be available to all members due to permission levels]. The information on the screen may be edited, but only by the individual member or his/her club's certifying officer, such as for an address change. The system will accept credit cards for renewing and one can set the system up so the AANR membership automatically renews each year without having to go through this process every year.

Reminder: Co-Op Advertising Receipts Deadline is November 30

AANR Western Region chartered clubs may be reimbursed for advertising in outside (non-nudist) publications or online sites. To qualify for reimbursement:

- (a) the advertising must specifically have a link to the AANR West website home page (www.aanrwest.org) and
- (b) the logos of AANR, or AANR-West (or both) should be displayed if space permits, and
- (c) the club's website home page must provide a link to the AANR or AANR Western Region website page.

Copies of 2019 club receipts or bills which have been paid, and a copy of the advertising must be submitted to the AANR West Treasurer no later than Nov 30.

(e) Ads in the AANR Bulletin and other AANR publications are not eligible for reimbursement. Advertising in any other nudist publication must have prior approval of the AANR West President for reimbursement.

Clubs can be reimbursed at either 50% of the cost of qualified advertising, the amount not to exceed $400 per year per club, or at 25% of the cost of qualified advertising, the amount not to exceed $1,000.00 per year per club, at the club's option.

A bonus for 100% membership clubs: Reimbursement can be as much as 50% of the cost of qualified advertising, the amount not to exceed $800 per year per club, or 25% of the cost of qualified advertising, the amount not to exceed $2,000 per year per club, at the club's option.

Advertising which conflicts with the principles and standards of AANR and/or AANR-West is not be eligible for reimbursement.

Provisional (newly formed) clubs are not yet eligible for co-op advertising reimbursement.

AANR International has a similar program with similar guidelines. By submitting to both, a club could "double dip" and possibly get a rebate for nearly 100% of their cost. Advertising does not need to be in the print media. If a club bought coffee cups with the AANR or AANR West logo, for example, they could be eligible for reimbursement up to a certain dollar amount.

AANR West Board Hard at Work on 2020 Budget Requests

Each year at this time, your regional directors are hard at work researching all the ideas members have submitted for activities and programs you would like us to implement.

Suggestions cover trade shows, promotional giveaway items, scholarships, women programs, backdrops and brochures, what goes onto the web site, youth camps, inter-club sports tournaments, publishing the newsletter, etc.

New this year are suggestions for a Spanish translation for our major brochures and other literature to attract a wider audience to social nudism. These all take money!

The team is currently researching all these suggestions, setting priorities, and establishing costs.

Anyone have an idea for an event we should be funding? Submit your ideas now! Send us an email to information@aanrwest.org.

The Board of Directors will meet for a day on Saturday November 2 to agree on a 2020 budget so that these priorities can then be executed.

All AANR members are invited to attend! This Board meeting will be at Shangri-La Nudist Ranch on Nov 2 (about an hour north of Phoenix, AZ). Call (623) 465-5959 make a room, RV or camping reservation.

Did You Know Your AANR-West Club Can Get an Interest-Free Loan?

AANR-West's landed and non-landed clubs may receive one interest-free loan per year, not to exceed $5,000.00 each. The purpose for this is to assist improving facilities or perhaps acting as seed money for a new project that will attract new members. AANR International has its Glen Miller program which similarly can provide interest free loans up to $10,000 for "100% clubs." Call us at information@aanrwest.org.

Mountain Air Ranch Hit with Flooding

By Ernie Wiese

On September 12, Mountain Air Ranch was hit with an estimated 3 inches of rain in 20 minutes from a thunderstorm that also dropped quarter-sized hail for about an hour.

The park suffered flooding to its clubhouse and walkways and a river of mud flowed into the pool, causing it to overflow and damage the wooden deck. Flooding also damages the new tennis courts and a few of the trailers parked along the main road. MAR also lost Internet and phone cell service for almost two days.

This is life in the fall along the Rockies and we expect seasonal flash storms to happen, but this one was especially bad as it was quite intense, and it hit without much warning.

Repairs were made rather quickly, and the park is back to full operation.

A Sellout Crowd of Runners at De Anza Springs Bare Booty 5K Run

By Graham Stewart, De Anza Recreation Coordinator

The blast of a foghorn broke the quiet morning air, and they were off. Ninety-seven brave runners started out on the Bare Booty 5K, a scenic trail run bordering the Anza Borrego State Park. Some challenged themselves by powering up the hills on the trail, some challenged themselves by running nude for the first time, whilst others just relaxed and enjoyed the vistas on their way.

The scenic desert trail section of the course was increased to 1.7 miles. This desert trail, bordering the Anza Borrego State Park, now forms more than half of the total distance.

Registration for this year's run included a custom beach towel. Like last year, all finishers also received a custom die-cast medal.

Some highlights of the 2019 Bare Booty 5K:

- A new course record was set at 22 minutes 5 seconds. This is an average of a mile every 7 minutes including the hills and switchbacks of the trail.
- Fabio ran the course at an average of 8 min 32 sec each mile. This is more impressive when I learned he is 12 years old.
- Romance can bloom and grow on the trails. Two runners crossed the finish line holding hands.

This trail showcases many of the unique features of the resort. This year's trail incorporated the extended trail in the foothills to the East of the resort, and the remodeled Heartbreak Hotel. In the hotel's history it has been a movie set, location to hold a party, and now a hydration station for runners.

In a world where runners have many choices, this scenic run has the three most important factors: location, location and location.

Next year's Bare Booty 5K will be on Sunday, Sept 20, 2020.

Next Nude 5K Race: October 12 at Shangri-La Ranch in Arizona. Call (623) 465-5959 to reserve your place at the starting line!

22nd Annual Music Festival at Laguna del Sol is a Rocking Success!

By Suzanne Schell

About 1600 nudists gathered at Laguna del Sol from Sept 12-16, 2019 for Nudestock, one of the resort's two biggest events of the year. What started in 1998 with a small group of member volunteers, a single band at the outdoor stage and a few vendors has grown into a four-day event full of music, dancing, shopping, food, drinks and everything else people enjoy at Laguna del Sol. Many members and visitors stay all week, arriving as early as the previous weekend to get a good campsite. Designated RV sites and rooms sell out early, but it always pays to get on the waitlist for cancellations.

There were five bands over three days plus a perennial favorite, Rod Marshall, on Thursday as Nearly Willie and karaoke host, as well as event emcee and stage manager for the whole weekend.

There is usually at least one single artist tribute band and this year we had two in one with Joel/John as Billy Joel and Elton John. The music didn't stop when the bands were finished, as the lounge and bar with club DJs was open for four nights, instead of the usual two each weekend.

The stage building at LDS is one of the oldest structures on the property, dating back to the 1970s. The setting is perfect, with a natural, tree-ringed sloping grass amphitheater for seating and dancing in front of the stage, while many others listened from the adjacent main pool area.

Over 20 vendors surrounded the venue on three sides, selling a fantastic variety of arts and crafts. There was tie dye clothing, glass mosaic pictures, wooden puzzles, copper metal art, jewelry, clothing, garden art and more. Laguna del Sol gave away custom-printed event "tush" towels to all attendees, who had the chance to tie dye them at one of the booths.

Nudestock is always the second weekend after Labor Day, and the 2020 dates will be Thursday through Sunday September 17-20. Make your reservations early!

Olive Dell Holds Successful "Mardi Gras in the Fall" Event

By Dennis Crane, NitOC

This year's annual Labor Day celebration at Olive Dell Ranch (ODR) was themed "Mardi Gras in the Fall." There were many activities throughout the 3-day weekend including a horseshoe tournament, palm reading, and a Day of the Dead event.

The weather was a bit on the hot side (near 100 degrees midday) and I think that contributed to a smaller crowd during the day but there was still nearly full house for dinner. SCNA, NitOC, and other clubs all were there to enjoy the activities.

The Saturday evening meal was a New Orleans-style feast cooked up by Bobbie and Becki Kilborn. Magnificent! And the bonus came the following day, Sunday, as ODR provided a free lunch for everyone with the leftovers!

Costumes are always an interesting subject with naturists as you see more clever costumes come out than at a textile party. The Saturday night dance showed beads of many colors hanging on bodies everywhere along feathers and some great Mardi Gras masks.

Entertainment was provided by a new band who was their first time performing at a nudist park. They sang mostly old rock classics, but they infused them with a reggae style rhythm, so the songs were recognizable only if you knew the words. Even so, but their unique style was very impressive to everyone.

We enjoyed the weekend festival very much and look forward to a repeat next year.

Reminder

Have You Used Your Passport Yet?

The Passport program is a way for AANR members and their guests to visit many different clubs.

Don't have a Passport book yet? You may purchase one at any participating club in the 8 western states, or you may purchase one at the AANR-West website at www.aanrwest.org. may via PayPal for $10 online including shipping. Books cost less at most clubs (usually around $5).

Clubs may have already begun greeting at their check-in desks some of the 270 people in the region who have received their Passport books.

Reminder: A raffle will be held in July 2020 for great prizes offered by the various clubs (merchandise, dinners, gate fee coupons, weekend days, etc.) to those who participate in the program and get their books stamped at different clubs and participating events.

For more information, see the Home Page of the www.aanrwest.org website.

Carpinteria Avocado Festival Draws 80,000 Visitors

Friday through Sunday October 4-6, 2019 - AANR-West co-hosted a booth with SCNA and their Friends of Bates Beach division at the annual Carpinteria Avocado Festival. An estimated 80,000 visitors from around the Santa Barbara and greater Los Angeles area came over three days to visit the 400 booths that line the main street of the city, and to eat every kind of food imaginable using avocados as one of the ingredients.

Our booth attracted a lot of attention due to the spinning prize wheel and free raffle for beach towels and a grand prize of a weekend stay at a local clothing-optional B&B. We ran out of several hundred each of beach balls, emery boards, lip balm, writing pens, and other things with the aanrwest name and web site imprinted on each. The booth attracted many under age 30 visitors who were looking for a place to give nude recreation a try. Literature about many of the local AANR clubs was also given out.

The Olympian Club Celebrates Their 66th Year Anniversary!

By Rolf Holbach

The Olympian Club was established in 1953 and is the second oldest non-landed naturist club in Southern California. On Aug 17 they held their 66th Anniversary Party at Wilfried and Carol's beautiful Orange County home. There was a delicious potluck buffet and Wilfried and Jim grilled up burgers, sausages, and a Tri-Tip. Several SCNA and NitOC members came out to help them celebrate in western style (see photo above)! The warm afternoon was capped off with a tasty anniversary cake and other desserts shared by all. Congratulations to the Olympian Club!

Buff-a-teers Host Women's Day

By Dorothy M.

The Women's Day event on Sept 24 was an enjoyable time. Some of the topics we covered were Buff-A-Teers' values, body acceptance issues, first-time naturist experiences, the ongoing dilemma of male "adjustment", stress reduction and naturism, clothing optional vs. nudity, sharing naturist philosophy, family naturist issues (children), home nudism, and recreational naturism.

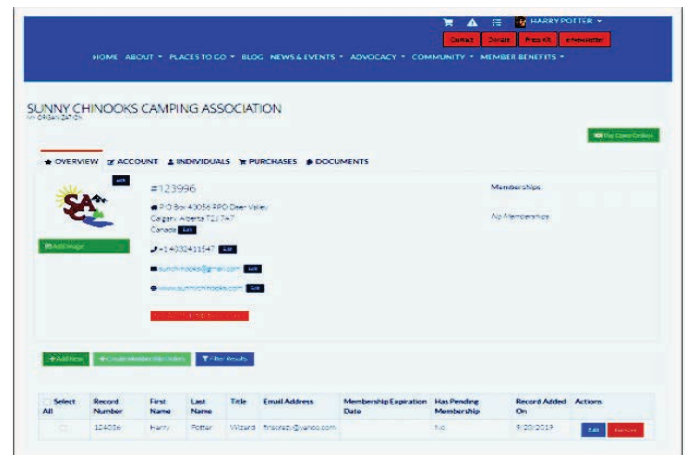

We enjoyed great conversation, food, and swimming pool chat time. More events like this will be planned in the future.

Changes Coming to AANR Membership Web Site

Club Certifying Officers will see a screen that lists all the members up for renewal that month (or prior months if they have not yet renewed).

It is easy to enter who is renewing, the amount paid, plus any changes to the individual's pages, plus print out new membership cards for those who just renewed (or who lose a card during the year).

Everyone who has seen the prototype agrees the new program is a vast improvement over the current one. However, we have learned the renewal feature has been delayed a few extra months while some kinks get worked out, since couple memberships are being split into individual memberships. We will let you know when this feature is available.

A complete training book is being prepared for each club and should be available before Impexium goes "live." When this happens, we will have a copy posted on our aanrwest.org web site with a link on our home page.

The Torch Goes Out for Beachfront USA After 46 Activist Years

By Gary Mussell

Beachfront USA, one of the most energetic keepers of the flame of nudist activism during the late quarter of the twentieth century, finally doused her Lady Liberty lamp a few weeks shy of 46 years.

Born in October 1973 during the turbulent campaign to create a nudist area at Venice Beach, California, that effort ultimately failed after Los Angeles County passed an anti-nudity ordinance in 1974 that was sustained on appeal in 1993 after a long court battle financially supported by the club's defiant members.

Cec Cinder, author of The Nudist Idea (1998), and others reorganized the group in 1986 into what Cinder called "a leaner, meaner" non-profit corporation, whose purpose was "solely to establish legal clothing-optional beaches and recreational areas in the United States and to retain those areas that have been traditionally been enjoyed in the nude. We believe that a citizen's right not to wear clothing extends beyond his or her own home or private resort to publicly-owned (that is, citizen-owned) lands."

Over the years, the group financially supported the "Top Freedom Seven" in New York who ultimately got that state's ban on top free women overturned. They were less successful battling federal officials who were intent on shutting down nude sunbathing along Cape Cod, They were also unsuccessful was trying to keep two Los Angeles County clothing-optional beaches at Smuggler's Cove, near Palos Verdes, and Pirate's Cove near Point Dume.

At one time, they had as many as 350 paid members ($10 each or $20 couple) including some of the Who's Who names of So Cal nudist history including Irene Shannon, Suzy Davis, and Callen. Lee Baxandall of the Naturist Society, Ed Lange of Elysium Fields, Hap Hathaway and Beverly Price of ASA (now AANR), and SCNA's Ricc Bieber were all charter members. Nicky Hoffman of TNS joined the Board in recent years.

The organization were prolific publishers of pamphlets, manifestos, and newsletters, publishing Bare in Mind and The Free Beach News on a monthly and sometimes bi-monthly basis. In the days before computers, word processing or the Internet, these were all published using a typewriter and copy machines and distributed either by mail or from a table set up at the beach, to anyone who would take one.

The financial engine for Beachfront USA was the Callen-Davis Memorial Fund (CDMF) which raised thousands of dollars in hopes of overturning anti-nudity laws everywhere, but specifically the Los Angeles County law. Sadly, they never raised enough funds to take their appeal to the US Supreme Court, which was always the goal. The fund still exists, administered by a board appointed by AANR-West,

The Naturist Society, and other local groups, with David Tiktin of SCNA as its Executive Director.

Over the decades, the organization failed to attract a next generation of activists to replace the founders, and almost all the original leaders of Beachfront have either passed on or are now too infirm to continue the cause. The Free Beach News continued under various editors until Spring, 2018. The Beachfront web site was not renewed in July 2019 and in mid-September 2019 the Board decided to disband itself.

And the activist symbol that was Nude Lady Liberty passes into nudist history.

Government Affairs (GAT) Report

Bates Beach Nudity Back to Normal

By Gary Mussell

After the confusion at the beach as described I last month's newsletter, I called the County Supervisor's office and I made several visits to officials across the South County to learn what had happened.

I found out the longtime county park guard who lives in the trailer above the beach had retired a month earlier. Perhaps the new one didn't know about our agreement?

A few days later I met "Kat," the new Rincon Park guard, who said she heard it was the county park ranger who acted on his own about the nudity and went down to the traditional clothing-optional area with four sheriff deputies just to scare us. She said after the County Supervisor called the Parks Department about the incident, he was transferred elsewhere.

Kat said she has no problem with simple nudity and was impressed we had the Ambassador program in place to handle beach behavior.

On Saturday, September 9, once again, SCNA and Friends of Bates Beach coordinated the cleanup of Bates Beach as part of the annual California Coastal Cleanup Day. 19 volunteers (see photo above) cleaned up 113 pounds of trash and 14 pounds of recyclables at Bates. Our group photo appeared in the local Coastal View newspaper the following week.

During the cleanup I met briefly with Mark, who is the new county ranger assigned to the beach. He agreed he would let the nudists be, if they stayed in the designated area, and unless there was a complaint. We agreed.

After the cleanup was complete, the Friends of Bates Beach nudist group enjoyed the afternoon down on the sand and had no hassles at all.

Alaska's Swimsuit Scandal Unfairly Targets Young Girls' Bodies

By Gary Mussell

09/07/19 - A 17-year-old swimmer from Anchorage, Alaska, was disqualified from a 10-meter freestyle race that she won, because of what one official called a "uniform violation" for showing "too much buttocks" after her race had ended.

After several days of outrage in the national press and on social media, the victory by swimmer Breckynn Willis was reinstated and the judge was fired from her job.

But the controversy it caused over body shaming, sexism, and racism lingers on in both the local press and in social media.

The swimming suits at the heart of the scandal satisfy the requirements of the National Federation of High School Sports. The teen wore a suit issued by her team at Dimond High School, and it matched the styles worn by her competitors. The suit has a reputation for riding up the backside during races, but she was the only athlete who was disqualified.

Why? Everyone has an opinion.

On CNN News, the girl's mother said she was targeted because she has "a more muscular and curvier, fuller-figured body than other girls her age." She also pointed out that Breckynn was the only black athlete competing that day and she hoped the disqualification had nothing to do with the girl's race.

"The only reason this ever became an issue is because certain people cannot keep their ultra-conservative beliefs to themselves. It is only these girls with their darker skin and unique bodies who have been singled out."

"These young swimmers aren't being punished for wearing their suits in scandalous or provocative ways' said Lauren Langford, the swim coach, but rather, because their ample hips, full chests, and dark complexions look different than their willowy, thin, and mostly pallid teammates," she said.

Langford added: "In a world where young girls are told at every turn that the skin that they're in is not good enough for a thousand reasons, the last thing we need to do in youth athletics is to add to that unhealthy dialogue around body image."

These two articles reprinted from the SCNA club newsletter with permission.

Women Win Legal Fight to "Free the Nipple" In 6 States

Sep 17, 2019 - Brit Hoagland and Samantha Sax wanted the right not to wear a shirt on a hot day in Fort Collins, Colorado. The same right that a man has.

Three years ago, they challenged the city ordinance. They won their case on the basis of gender equality, but the city fathers decided to not change the law anyway, so the women sued. After the courts again ruled in favor of top freedom, the city appealed to the federal 10th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Last week, that court ruled in the women's favor and applied it to all of the other states within the court's jurisdiction: Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico, Kansas and Oklahoma.

KNTV in Ft Collins quotes Andy McNulty, attorney for the women, saying, "Any law that says, 'Women are prohibited from,' is unconstitutional and really just intolerable in a society that should treat women as equal to men."

"I think the council as they articulated in their 4-3 vote, really just thought as a matter of priority, there was no guarantee of success that the supreme court would even take it up, and that the money was just better spent on other city priorities," said Tyler Marr, deputy director of information for the city of Fort Collins.

And that means laws banning women from being topless are not enforceable in all six states in the 10th District.

However, in 2017 the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled to uphold Chicago's topless ban. That means there's two districts in the country with opposing views on the matter. If more lawsuits pop up around the country, the Supreme Court may have to rule on the issue after all.

In the KNTV broadcast, McNulty says it's an important issue about equality and how we look at women.

"The idea that women's bodies are purely sexual is something that, was perpetuated by this law. By getting rid of this law, we are saying women are more than just sexual objects and their bodies are more than just sexual objects. They're human beings just like men."
